

Plan

Plan for this project is to assign parts on who does what. After everyone knows what they are doing, we will then write the code and advice each other. After the code is written we will debug if needed. If everything is good to go and we have time, we will work on the interface and make the project look nice.